Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 30 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Fine, increasingly sunny and warm.

Today:
A cloudy start across northern and western parts of the region, but brighter elsewhere and increasingly becoming sunny for all by midday. With light winds it will turn warm through the afternoon. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Tonight:
After a fine end to the day, it will stay dry overnight with long clear spells and light winds. Turning chilly, especially in the countryside. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Wednesday:
Fine on Wednesday with sunny spells and light winds allowing it to become warm through the afternoon. Perhaps becoming cloudier in the north later with a little drizzle by evening. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Turning much colder from Thursday but remaining mostly dry throughout. Variable cloud likely with some sunny spells by day but cold overnight with a risk of frost.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.